Reflections on Life

It does not seem like we should be thinking about the holiday season yet. Was it not just yesterday that we were listening to the sounds of cicadas, smelling the freshly cut grass, and watching the sun set at a reasonable hour? I do not know about you, but the older I get, the faster time moves! It should bring to our attention how important our focus needs to be on our spiritual life. The Bible reminds us in James 4:13-14 about the temporary state of our physical life: "Come now, you who say, 'Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and make a profit', yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes."

In whatever season of life, you are in, we understand life is busy and it is easy to have our time occupied by all the responsibilities of this world. The key challenge is to prevent the needs of the material world from overshadowing our spiritual priorities. Jesus asks us a particularly important question when addressing this conflict that we can have with those responsibilities. It is a question that we must answer every day. Jesus in Matthew 16 asks this: "For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world and forfeits his soul? Or what shall a man give in return for his soul?"

Many in our world spend years and years trying to ensure peace and comfort in the physical things in life. They look up, decades have passed, and they realize their time is fading away on this earth. They realize the peace and comfort being looked for can not be satisfied in physical goods. The Bible says in Philippians 4:4-7: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again, I will say rejoice. Let your reasonableness be known to everyone. The Lord is at hand; do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your request be made known to God. And the peace of God, which passes all understanding will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."

True peace and comfort can only be found in Jesus Christ. Let us continually be focused on our relationship with Christ and never allow the cares and concerns of this physical world to effect that relationship. Have a wonderful week and a Happy Thanksgiving!
