Chase Park Evangelism Update

May 2023

I hope you are doing great this Lord's Day. We have been very busy with evangelistic efforts recently and have a lot of people who are visiting our services from the community and several who have moved to the area. If you are looking for a way to help us reach these people, you can play a vital role by making them feel welcome and wanted when they visit. Chase Park is by far and away the best I have been associated with at this. There may be some better, but I am not aware of them.

There are at least 5 studies going on right now that are at various stages of completion. Please pray for them to finish with a decision to obey the gospel. We understand that we are to plant and water and God will give the increase (1 Corinthians 3:6), but there is nothing wrong with wanting these folks who are searching to come to Christ through obedience to His gospel.

In addition to the local things that are happening, I was able to spend part of a day with Barton Kizer in Charlotte last week. Barton is a valuable resource for those who are interested in reaching the lost and they do not have to be Spanish speaking prospects. I love and appreciate his zeal for the lost and want to glean as much as possible from him to assist in our efforts here at Chase Park.

If you become aware of someone who might be open to a visit or a phone call about spiritual matters, I am available at any time to speak to anyone. Please continue to pray for our local and worldwide outreach as we live in a lost and dying world.

Remember, I love you and want to go to heaven with you.
