Can I Be an Evangelist?

A former tax-collector and a few fisherman — twelve common men were charged by our Lord to do the impossible — evangelize the world. What an awesome task — what an awesome responsibility! But each of these fulfilled the command and dedicated their lives, and the lives of their families, to bringing the gospel of Christ to the nations.

And the charge now comes down through the centuries to us. We must evangelize the world. We must not allow our friends and loved ones, nor strangers afar, to pass from this world without hearing the good news — that Jesus will save them from their sins.

So, are you and I evangelists? Moses didn't want to do it. He couldn't imagine himself being God's spokesman before Pharaoh. But God "convinced" him to take the job. He would provide whatever was needed for the task at hand. Moses just needed to understand that Jehovah wasn't requesting that he go back to save the children of Israel. He was commanding him to go.

Similarly, we need to understand that the Lord didn't just ask that we help him in saving others, he commands it (Mark 16:16). If you've been saved from your sins, it is expected that you will help the Savior find others to save. It is expected that you will be an evangelist.

Any person, male or female, who brings the gospel to others, is an evangelist. And every Christian should be involved, in some way, in spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ through evangelism.

Christianity is a religion of service and sacrifice — from our King, Jesus, down to the newest member. We serve because He serves us. When we render our sacrifices of service, we help others find their God and their way home. That is why the best thing you can ever do is to serve others by being evangelistic (3 John 4). By being a messenger for Christ, you will receive the ultimate reward — the satisfaction of knowing that you were able to help Jesus find a lost soul.

Christ promises great rewards for those who serve in this way. His recognition and praise should motivate us to want to become His evangelists.

Remember, I love you and want to go to heaven with you.
