Philippians 3:7-8

(7) But what things were gain to me, these I have counted loss for Christ. (8) Yet indeed I also count all things loss for the excellence of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them as rubbish, that I may gain Christ

Notice Paul's statements about his service to Christ. He used to think certain things were valuable, but now he saw they are worthless compared to Christ. He considered everything a loss compared to the greatness of knowing Christ Jesus. Paul gave up everything for Him and to gain Christ, so this should be the pattern for our relationship to Him.

To walk as Christ did, we must strive to meet the sacrifices required in our lives. Christ embodied the purpose of biblical sacrifices; they were central to His life.

Paul followed Christ's example of sacrifice. He was a respected Hebrew, taught by Gamaliel, and possibly a member of the Sanhedrin. He gave up his esteemed position and possibly even his family to serve Christ. His sacrifices are detailed in II Corinthians 11:22-33.

Our Savior made the ultimate sacrifice, giving up His divine privileges to live as a human. Abraham left his homeland to wander as a nomad, and Moses gave up his dreams of ruling Egypt. Have we sacrificed anything comparable? Paul says he lost everything for Christ, considering it all rubbish to gain Him.

Many of us are like the rich young ruler in Matthew 19, who couldn't give up his wealth for Jesus. Wealth can become an idol, hindering our relationship with God. Idolatry is a serious spiritual sin that comes between us and God.

What is the cost of discipleship? We must be willing to give up everything, even our own lives, to follow Him. This may require deep soul-searching and significant sacrifices, but it is necessary to conform to His image.
